DEEP IN CRIME

Details of Deeming's Career of Murder.

How He Was Traced Under Many Aliases in Australia.

Story of the Girl Who Barely Escaped Being His Victim.

A Specimen of the Demon's Amatory Epistles—Excerpt from the Colonies Over His Fiendish Acts—He is a Sane Man.

By Telegram to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer Alameda, which arrived here this morning from Australia, brought details of Deeming's crimes. Nothing since the early days of the settlements in West Australia has so stirred the colony to its depths. All business was stopped at every place through which Deeming passed on his way to Melbourne, and people turned out to have a look at the criminal.

The crushed and mangled body of the woman was found in the populous suburb of Windsor, southeast of Melbourne, March 5, and a week later Deeming was in custody, charged with murder. The last occupant of the house was a man who gave the name of Drew, and he disappeared suddenly. He complained of a leaky condition of the walls of the house, and told the landlord that he was a practical man; that he had bought some cement and would patch up the walls himself. He

CEMENTED HIS WIFE UP

In one of the walls. Drew was apparently a man of sporting proclivities. He dressed in the height of fashion and was bedecked with diamonds, and carried himself with the air of a lord. He was traced to the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm where he was identified as Albert Williams.

Eight days after the crime Williams sought another victim through a matrimonial agency in Melbourne, and went on to Sydney by steamer. On the voyage he made desperate love to a young lady passenger, Miss Kate Rouseffell, of Bathurst. His manner captured the heart of the fair passenger, and when they arrived at Sydney, she had promised to become his wife. He was then traveling under the name of "Baron Swanson," and in glowing terms he pictured to her his vast estates and handsome revenues, and made glorious promises for their future. Step by step the detectives traced him, aided in their search by his ostentatious display of diamonds and his general bearing, and his love entanglement with Miss Rouseffell eventually led to his capture.

HIS RECORD TRACED.

At Sydney "Swanson" was identified as Albert Deeming, a plumber and gas fitter who was accompanied by his wife and two children, and who served a sentence at Darlinghurst for larceny, and eventually the record of the man, under the names Deeming, Baron Swanson, Drew, Williams and Lawson, was made bare to the world. He was traced by the police to the Southern Cross mine or the Yiegara gold fields in West Australia, where he was working as an engineer, and was at the time furnishing a home in anticipation of his marriage to Miss Rouseffell. The latter's father was a tradesman who died some years ago, leaving a widow and children. The eldest sister is now a milliner at Bathurst, and Deeming's fiancée secured employment at the principal stationers and news agency in Brisbane. She afterward accompanied her brother to Broken Hill, and while there was taken sick and was obliged to return to her sister in Bathurst. It was on this trip that she met Deeming. She was only a country girl of 19, and never doubted the sincerity of Deeming's motives. The elder sister was so taken with the alleged "Baron" that she readily gave her consent to the marriage.

WHILE DEEMING WAS AT THE mine he wrote his unsuspecting fiancée constantly and in one of his letters under date of February 8, he says he is in trouble, having one of his bags stolen from his cabin, with 2180 worth of goods in it. Further on he says: "I must now tell you, dear, what I have done since my arrival here. As soon as I got here I put an advertisement in a paper I have sent you, by which I have been appointed managing engineer at a salary of $25 per week with house for the first six months and $28 1/2 per week in the future. Besides this, I expect to make $23 per week. The mine is about 250 miles from Perth, which is a fine town and has a healthy climate and everything that can be wished for comfort. You must not think it is like Broken Hill; far from it, as soon as you get this letter, dear, read me a wire; let me know whether you can come at once. I will have the house for you and everything arranged for our wedding on your arrival. Now don't keep me waiting, dear. So long as we are to be husband and wife, why not be it at once. There will be no advantage in waiting. I have written your brother today and told him of our coming union, and you will not doubt get a letter from him on the subject. Now, you must not think, dear, that we will remain in the gold fields all our lives. I intend to make enough money in two years to take a trip to England. So you must look forward to the same. Please send me a Sydney paper and a Melbourne one if you can get it. Now, dear, with love to sister, and to mother, and to your ever loving and affectionate BARON.

The young lady believed him in everything and went about making preparations for her approaching wedding. Everything was ready for her departure when the news of her betrothed's arrest came.

CHURNING HER COMPLETELY.

She was taken to Melbourne to give her testimony, and assailed as much as lay in her power to bring the pseudo Baron to justice. She sent a letter to her sister, in which she wrote:

I suppose you know all the news now. I am so weary of nothing but reporters and photographers. I think every one sympathizes with me, but I was very fortunate. I will not doubt get word here, and then, perhaps, maybe you again; but I will never return. Please, dear Lisa, it will be better for you to change our now noted

SETTLED.

Uncle Sam's Controversy With Italy Ended.

The United States Pays $25,000 for the New Orleans Lynching.

The Money to Go to the Families of Three of the Victims.

The Closing Correspondence Made Public—Interrupted Diplomatic Relations Will Be Renewed and the Hatchet Buried.

By Telegram to The Times.

LONDON, April 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A dispatch from Rome says that a series of notes have passed between Blaine and Marquis Imperiali, Italian Charge d'Affaires at Washington, resulting in a settlement of the differences between Italy and the United States growing out of the lynching of Italians in New Orleans.

According to this dispatch Marquis Imperiali advised the Italian government that he had received from the United States $25,000 for the families of the victims. This money, the marquis adds, was accompanied by a note from Blaine, in which he declares that, although the wrong was not committed directly by the United States, the latter nevertheless, feels a solemn duty in the premises. The note adds that Blaine declares that he feels great pleasure that the government should pay Italy a satisfactory indemnity, and in consequence of these instructions given to Blaine by Harrison, the latter hopes the arrangement will end the unfortunate incident; that former good relations between the two countries will be firmly reestablished; that nothing in future will occur to disturb such relations.

In his note replying to Blaine's communication, Imperiali says that Italy has already with pleasure noted the terms in which Harrison referred to the matter in his message at the opening of Congress. The Marquis further says that Italy considers the indemnity sufficient, without prejudice to any action at law that may be brought by aggrieved parties. He also expresses the hope that the payment of the indemnity will result in a happy reestablishment of relations between the governments.

CONFIRMED AT WASHINGTON.

The United States Pays Up and the Incident Is Ended.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Inquiry in this city concerning the settlement of the Italian Charge d'Affaires, Marquis Imperiali, placed in the hands of the Marquis Imperiali, the Italian Charge d'Affaires here, $25,000 for distribution among the heirs of the three Italians killed at New Orleans and found to be subjects of the Italian government.

It is understood that the money was taken from the annual appropriation of $80,000 to enable the President to provide for emergency expenses in the diplomatic and consular service so that it may be unnecessary to call upon Congress for a specific appropriation. By this action on the part of the United States Government the disagreeable complications in the relations existing between the two governments, it is believed, have been removed and within a short time diplomatic relations between them will be restored to an amicable status, the same as existed before the New Orleans tragedy. Minister Porter returning to Rome and the Minister from Rome taking up his post at Washington.

The full text of the correspondence was made public tonight. The first letter is from Secretary Blaine, dated April 12, to Marquis Imperiali, the Italian Charge d'Affaires, congratulating him that the difficulty growing out of the lamentable massacre at New Orleans is about to be terminated, and saying that the United States acknowledges it is a solemn duty as well as a great pleasure for the National Government to pay a satisfactory indemnity, and hopes the President's instructions may efface all memory of the unhappy tragedy, and that the old and friendly relations of the United States and Italy may be restored.

In closing Blaine assures Imperiali that his service is grateful and acceptable to the United States.

Imperiali acknowledging Blaine's note, expresses the pleasure of His Majesty's government in learning that the United States acknowledges it is a solemn duty and at the same time a great pleasure to pay an indemnity to Italy, and accepts the same without prejudice to judicial steps which it may be proper for the parties to take, and sees no reason why the relations between the two governments should not again become intimate, cordial and friendly.

Under instructions from Premier Rudini, and in the name of the Italian government, Imperiali declares to Blaine that diplomatic relations between Italy and the United States are fully reestablished from the moment, and that pending the Minister's return to the capital he advises Blaine that he has taken charge of the royal legation in the capacity of Charge d'Affaires.

The Italian Minister Resigns.

Rome, April 14.—Owing to the differences on financial measures the entire ministry has resigned. The King summoned Prime Minister Rudini to form a new cabinet.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] A sensational kidnapping reported near Harrisburg in the Harqua Hala mountains. A young man 24 years old named Spillane was sent down by San Francisco parties to go into the mining business and was persuaded to buy forty acres of worthless property and put up expensive machinery on it. After running a few weeks the proposition was demonstrated a failure, and the works were shut down. St. Claire sent to his uncle, a man named Clay, in San Francisco, for money to pay off the men, who had grown turbulent.

In the meantime parties named Davis, Burbank and Johnson took a wagon to St. Claire's house, gagged, tied and placed him inside and drove toward Phoenix with the intention of holding him in the suburbs until the money was paid into the bank.

The kidnapers organized a pursuit next day and caught up with the kidnapers. Johnson made his escape, but Burbank and Davis were taken back to Harrisburg, where they were legally arrested and placed in the custody of officers, who are now en route to Yuma. St. Claire was released, little the worse for wear. No violence was offered.

PECULIAR PUGILISM.

The Johnson-Hatch Fight at San Francisco Last Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The fight at the Occidental Club tonight between Bert Johnson of San Francisco and Dave Hatch of Visalia was given to the former at the end of the sixteenth round. Both men were unknown as ring tactics, though this was not their first fight, and Hatch's contortions in his efforts to avoid punishment amused the spectators to the extreme of monotony. Johnson pushed the fight from the start, endeavoring to comply with the rules of fistic art, but Hatch was repeatedly cautioned against butting, wrestling and frequent dropping at close quarters whether a blow reached him or not. Johnson had the advantage in height and pushed the fight with much effect about the head, whenever the latter would keep his feet.

Hatch cleverly stopped a number of blows with hard left jabs in the mouth, one drawing blood and at the end of the fifteenth nearly won the start, with a right swing. Johnson knocked him down in the sixteenth and an application of too much internal refreshment by his seconds seemed to have taken the energy out of him as he remained down too long on his second drop and was counted out.

Cheaper Rates for Fruit Shippers.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—It is stated by J. C. Stubbs of the Southern Pacific that on the opening of the deciduous fruit season fruit trains will be run from Sacramento to Ogden in forty hours, about half the time taken last year. The rates will also be reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per 100.

BOLD ROBBERY.

A Train Held Up Near New Orleans—The Express Safe Plundered.

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] A daring and successful robbery was committed on a train within seventy-five miles of this city. When passenger train No. 2, of the Illinois Central, northbound, reached Hammond Station, a man boarded the engine, thrust a revolver in the faces of engineer and fireman and ordered them to go ahead. The command was obeyed and they ran to Independence, where the switch was taken and No. 3 passed. The southbound train had scarcely started when two confederates of the individual on the engine jumped aboard and at New Orleans the engineer was ordered to halt.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

AT THE THEATRE—The Cattle King.

"Faith" was described by a Phoenix schoolboy as "expecting something you ain't going to get."

The Arizona Gazette remarks: "Some of our milkmen hang pails of milk down the well to keep the milk cool. Some of them use too much rope." That's a mild way of putting it (the milk).

An exchange, discussing the murders that are committed by insane people, suggests that it is just as fatal to be killed by a crank as it is to be killed by a sensible person. A few reasonable charges of buckshot, varied with an occasional hanging, will prevent this murderous form of erotic insanity from spreading. One of these fellows is sane enough when he is shot; why shouldn't he be sane enough to be hanged?

It seems that the high duties imposed by Sweden and Germany on dried and preserved fruits, such as California prunes in greatest abundance, is a bar to exportation of California fruits to those countries. This is a hardship on the consumer in those countries and is an injury to the Californian producer. The reciprocity idea having helped to drive the pack-pickers from the same dilemma should next be directed to helping out the fruit-pickers.

One of the unappreciative papers of the State suggests that San Francisco's postoffice site is becoming a regular bore. The last hole sunk developed nothing more substantial than quicksand to a depth of fifty-seven feet. The Chronicle wants the government experts to go ahead and punch the lot as full of holes as a colander. Some of those people will not be satisfied until they bore the site away and bore the people of the State to death.

A case of adventurers in Brooklyn (N. Y.) have been engaged in setting fire to buildings for the purpose of gaining a percentage of the insurance money. Arrangements were made with one or more unprincipled tenants in a block, who, after over-insuring their property, would allow the conspirators to set fire to the premises. Of course other tenants in the block who happened to be outside the deal had to take pot luck. Compared with such a fiendish programme as that highway robbery looks up as quite respectable.

A NUMBER of British subjects residing in the Department of Victoria, South Chile, have complained to the British Vice-Consul at Valparaiso that life and property are insecure in that part of the country; that six Englishmen have been murdered during the past year, and that the members of the colony are continually robbed by predatory bands which formerly belonged to the Balmaine forces. In short order comes the information by cable that the British ship of war Garnet has reached Valparaiso. An exchange observes, with cutting irony, that it hopes we shall be spared the harrowing spectacle of a powerful nation like England bullying a weak one like Chile.

The importing merchants of San Francisco who have been systematically defrauding the customs office for years, and were recently exposed through the apprehension of a leading house, all want to compromise with the Government on the quiet and avoid disgrace. It is a mistaken policy that allows them to do so. The smaller part of the penalty lies in making restitution of a part or all of the fruits of crime. There is not a thief in the country who is caught but would gladly compromise matters in the same way. The Government has no more right, strictly speaking, to compound a felony than a State, county or city has. It sets a vicious example and encourages further infractions of the law.

The Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals has recently earned the gratitude of the country by deciding that the plat of ground in which lie buried the remains of the mother of George Washington is not subject to sale. A man named Shepherd, who holds the fee to the lot, recently bargained to sell it to a real estate firm of Fredericksburg for $20,500. This was to include the monument which a New York man set out to erect, but never completed. But the people of Fredericksburg held a mass-meeting and denounced the proposed sale, whereupon Shepherd backed out and the court sustained him when the matter was brought to an issue. G. H. Huntington of Baltimore is the man who sought to make the purchase through the real estate firm. It is hard to say what speculation he had in view in making so large an offer, but there could hardly have been a way for him to realize on his investment unless he made a show place of the spot and charged an admission fee. Such intended sacrilege grates harshly upon every sense of decency and a common reverence for the dead. It suggests the fact that cupidity is capable of turning men into ghouls. The mistake originates in allowing such a plat of ground to remain in private ownership. It should be appropriated either by the local or State authorities or the Nation, the monument should be completed and the place held sacred for all time.

Calling the Roll of Judges.

The situation in San Francisco as respects the grand jury and the hoodlums is again becoming very interesting. When Judge Wallace's grand jury was discharged as illegal it was declared by those who had taken a leading part in the aggressive war on the hoodlum gangs that the light would not be given up. They seem to be sticking to their promise, and though the better elements are not a majority in the present grand jury they are a very respectable minority, and they have shown that they can make things very awkward for their fellow-jurymen and for the court. Contrary to the calculations of many people, who probably thought that the whole thing would blow over if it were given a little time, the main issue still remains with much of its former force and directness.

When Judge Trout was chosen to preside over the court and proceeded to impanel the present grand jury, there was a great show of carrying the proceedings through in a fair and ingenious way, so that the so-called jury-fixers might have no chance to get in their work. Each one of the judges nominated one or more of the grand jurors in open court, and thus stood in a manner sponsor for the integrity of his nominations. The plan at least had the merit of fixing the responsibility for every man's appointment upon somebody. It looked as though the court wished to be fair and was willing to stand by the full consequences of its acts. It was not to be supposed that the judges would like to stand in the guise of jury-fixers themselves by the light of subsequent developments.

Well, the jury got to work and put in a couple of months without much outside interference. The development of last Tuesday, when eight of the members filed a petition to the Court asking for their discharge on the ground that they found it utterly impossible to secure certain indictments which in their opinion were just and proper, in view of the evidence before the jury, opens the campaign afresh. The eight men who are supposedly in favor of indicting the hoodlums are:

ALFRED BOVIER,
HENRY L. DAVIS,
H. H. SCOTT,
M. P. JONES,
H. C. FLAGG, JR.,
ALBERT M. ROSENBAUM,
JOHN LYNCH,
GEORGE W. DUTTON.

The eleven men who have presumably stood against finding such indictments are:

J. P. Le Count, foreman.
H. Dillard.
Thomas G. Winkington.
Abner Dodd.
D. V. B. Henarie.
P. F. Ward.
Columbus Waterhouse.
John A. Hammersmith.
O. F. Willey.
Oliver Eldridge.
John Landers.

By consulting the record of their appointment, it is found that, of the eight men who are willing to do their full duty, three were appointed by Judge Hunt, two by Judge Murphy, and one each by Judges Trout, Finn, Murphy, Coffey and Levy.

The judges who named reliable anti-hoodlum members were, Wallace and Sanderson; those who named reliable hoodlums were Garber, Lawler, Trout, Finn and Levy. Perhaps the roll might be called upon all the judges to advantage in the following table:

Judges.
Hunt..... 1
Murphy..... 2
Wallace..... 1
Sanderson..... 1
Coffey..... 1
Garber..... 2
Lawler..... 2
Finn..... 1
Levy..... 1

If the judges are to be judged by the representatives whom they placed upon the grand jury, this is the way to do it. It is probable that the character of the men whom they respectively named was well known to them, and if not then they were guilty of a grave dereliction of duty. In this way it is easy to pick out the judges who are under hoodlum influence, those who are against it and those who are indifferent.

should have known all about the man whom he named for this responsible position. No excuse of ignorance will now avail him in public estimation.

What may be the outcome of the present controversy it is hard to forecast; but probably there will be majority and minority reports filed and the jury will be discharged.

The judges who are responsible for this second miscarriage of justice will have to bear the odium of it. What that responsibility means they may not fully realize until they again offer themselves as candidates for public positions.

The fight goes bravely on. There is no such thing as fail if those who have enlisted in the campaign against hoodlum only remain true and follow a consistent course. It is a great thing to fix the responsibility for wrongdoing where it belongs. Public opinion will do the rest.

One of the eight jurors who asked to be discharged thus expressed himself to a representative of the San Francisco Examiner:

It is simply this, that the honest men on the grand jury were being dragged in the mire by the others, and when we saw by the evidence of casting odium upon us we decided to file the petition. We were losing our time and doing nothing, for as a matter of fact we are powerless in the hands of the chief jury, particularly in more important questions. The Bruner case, for instance, was one in which we fought hard for justice, but justice was not done. We were humiliated and honor coupled with the men who defeated us, pulled us down into the dirt. The eyes of the people are turned upon us. You can appreciate how we feel.

But let us turn now, and we are going to have it.

Next Friday we may file a minority report, then giving facts and telling the truth of what impelled us to stand up to the hoodlums and fight for right and justice. We may be a little over it, but I am not afraid of fighting, for should that come I have facts and documents that will associate and place us against some of the grand jurors with whom I had to serve.

It is somewhat significant that, as soon as the result of the recent election in Jersey City, N. J., became known, whereby a Democratic set of city officials would be replaced by Republicans, a mysterious fire occurred in the offices of the City Treasurer and City Comptroller, destroying all the records of the municipal business.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATRE.—The Bandid King was repeated at the Los Angeles Theatre last night to the delight of the young Americans near the roof, who glory in gore and carnage.

At the Los Angeles Theatre, the Bandid King, a melodrama of the wild south-west, where the rodeo is frequent and the swish of the riata is heard in the land. It is a story of a man who is a frontiersman, who makes the frontier drama and genre, and altogether unique.

COMING ATTRACTION.—Thursday night next Marie Walworth and a strong company, including that sterling actor, Barton Hill, along a California favorite, opens at the Los Angeles Theatre, under the name "Amy Robson" in the play of that name.

This production has attracted much attention from the press throughout the country, all agreeing that it is a most noteworthy and interesting one. The scenic features of the piece are said to be something extraordinary. They were created by Richard Martin and his assistants, the artists of Palmer's and the Broadway Theatre, New York. These gentlemen stand at the head of their profession and in the splendid modern theatre.

THE PERIOD of the play had ample scope for showing their talents. The scenic illustrations, including the castle, the which Palace and Cannon Hall—all famous points in English history, and the ruins of which are still favorite spots with American tourists.

The entry of Queen Elizabeth on horseback into the illuminated grounds of Kenilworth Castle is said to be one of the finest passages ever put upon the stage. This occurs in the third act of Amy Robson. Four performances will be given, ending on the day of next Friday.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Belva Lockwood as a Presidential possibility is hardly a dark horse, and she is not likely to run well enough to be designated as a Maud S.

The Democrats lost in Rhode Island because Providence did not give them the majority they expected.

The socialists call themselves "The Progressive Labor Party," because the labor progresses so rapidly that they never catch up with it.

It was very unfortunate for Col. Watterston that he closed out his Cleveland stock just as the market was about to turn.

Mr. Lowell of New York is highly indignant because "some people look upon him as a crime like burglar or incendiary."

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.
One of the most elegant affairs which has ever marked the social life of our city was the reception tendered Mrs. W. E. Beeson by the Treble Clef Club on Wednesday afternoon in the lovely home of Mrs. A. E. Pomeroy, on Hill street.

As the time approached that is to separate Mrs. Beeson from the circles she has so long graced by her presence and charmed with her singing there is a universal sentiment of regret for the loss to be sustained. Not only is this felt by the musical people, but she will be missed everywhere, for to all good and worthy causes she has been ready to lend a helping hand, and to sing benevolence and charity, loyalty and truth into human hearts. Her songs have been an inspiration to those who have most loved and admired her. Very appropriately, then, was the spontaneous ovation tendered her by this club, distinctly woman's, and most gracefully was it carried out in all its artistic and lovely details.

As the guests entered the house of the hostess they were presented to the honored lady by Mrs. J. H. Cole, president of the club. In the dining-room refreshments were daintily served, and the hum of happy voices soon filled the spacious rooms. Flowers and choice music were blended with smiles and ferns, the parlors in pink, the hall in red and the dining-room in white, everywhere were baskets and vases filled with elegant floral tributes.

At the hour appointed the members of the club were summoned to the library, where an excellent programme was rendered with the musical taste and culture which reflects so much credit upon the leader and membership of the association. Piano solo by Miss Kate Ryder, introduced the musical treat "Twenty-third Psalm," by the club.

A vocal solo, "Nightingale," by Miss Ellen Beach, was followed by an encore, "The Club," by the club. The "Night Bells," by Dr. Charles Vincent. As a hush succeeded the soft notes of the last song, Mrs. Cole, with a few loving words, presented to Mrs. Beeson in the name of the club, an elegant gold-plated card, which was handsomely engraved and filled with the cards of the club. The inscription read: "Presented to Mrs. W. E. Beeson by the Treble Clef Club of Los Angeles, April 18, 1892."

To relieve the over-wrought sensibilities of the lady, a trio from Elijah, "Lift Thine Eyes," was sweetly sung by Miss Selby, Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Torrey.

As the song ceased, Mrs. Beeson formally expressed in a voice full of tears, her appreciation of this loving tribute, assuring the club that her heart would be in Los Angeles at every Tuesday's rehearsal. And so, with regretful farewells the ties were sundered and the friends of the club, who were gathered at the Los Angeles Theatre, were separated. Her husband, who, during the war, was a wealthy cotton planter in Louisiana, had resided for several years previous to his death at Tombstone, Ariz. Mr. Clark died about two years ago at Washington, whether he had gone to press a claim of $129,000 for cotton destroyed during the war. The claim had passed the Senate and was favorably reported in the House. His widow was at Washington on the same errand when she died. Mr. Clark was formerly a partner of McLaughlin, whose sensational killing of Col. San Francisco capitalist, and his prompt acquittal was the talk of the State for many years ago.

Mrs. Clark leaves two children, a son and daughter. Their financial condition is not such as to permit them to prosecute the claim upon the Government unless they receive assistance from persons who have already made advances.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.

Kandale Believed to be Fatally Injured—A Peculiar Accident.

Detective Will Smith of the Southern Pacific, who returned to the city yesterday, reported that Kandale, one of the Slavs recently acquitted of the murder of Night Watchman Leffer, at the San Fernando tunnel, some weeks ago, met with a fatal accident. Tuesday night which will probably cost him his life.

Kandale and his partner Kormos left the city Tuesday night on the 10:40 train for the North. On entering the San Fernando tunnel, Kandale started to step off the platform of the car, and fell, striking on the back of his head, and knocking a hole in his skull. The accident was discovered at once, and the trainmen tried to get the names, but he was dead before they could get them. They were taken to Bakersfield, where they were identified by Detective Smith as the two Slavs.

Mr. Smith says the men are now in San Francisco, and that Kandale's wound is believed to be fatal.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

When THE TIMES reporter entered the official room of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the secretary sat with his eyes glued admiringly on the Stars and Stripes which were festooned against the opposite wall.

"Yes sir," that's the new Congress. Come on, come on," he exclaimed on seeing the scribe, "and the first member who 'kicks on the expenditure of $14 for a handsome 10x16 banner like that ought to—' and he paused to hunt up a word in the English vocabulary, which would fit the case. The flag is a beauty and will soon wave from staff over the roof which covers the finest display of Southern California products in this part of the State.

The new Chamber of Commerce stickers are very popular. Wells Fargo & Co. sent up yesterday for a big batch to use for their Eastern correspondence.

E. P. Norwood of Cucamonga has sent in a handsome display of almonds taken fresh from the tree.

PREVENTED A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

A lady driving a horse and buggy was saved from a very serious accident yesterday afternoon in front of the Grand Opera-house by the exertions of Charles Van, of the Wallack show, now playing at the Los Angeles Theatre. The horse became frightened at an advertising chariot which is daily traversing the main thoroughfares, to the danger of all it comes in contact with, and had it not been for the timely tenacity of Mr. Van in holding the horse, a serious smash-up and runaway would have occurred. As it was Mr. Van was quite seriously injured by being struck on the head by the infuriated animal. Mr. Van is to be congratulated upon his heroic and more serious injury, and credit is due for his heroic effort in behalf of a lady's safety.

GOOD FRIDAY.

The Usual Services Will Be Held in the Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

Yesterday was Holy Thursday. This day of Easter week has been marked from an early age of the church by acts of humility and commemoration of Christ washing the feet of His disciples on the eve of His crucifixion.

Down at the big Cathedral on Main street there was a throng of worshippers coming and going all day, and kneeling before the richly decorated side altar (called the sepulcher) which was the only altar illuminated. Candles, blue, purple and white, were massed about and within the altar, which was ablaze with lighted tapers. Otherwise the great Cathedral was darkened, the statues shrouded, typical of mourning, and the altar, the dome, the choir, signifying the desolation of the church and the retiring of our Lord from earth. Holy Thursday being the anniversary of the institution of the blessed Eucharist and of the priesthood of the new law, was inaugurated by two ceremonies of great significance, which take place at the solemn mass: the consecration of the oils and the washing of the feet of twelve poor people, representative of the twelve apostles.

This ceremony occurred yesterday at the cathedral at 8 p. m. Very Rev. Father Adam, V.G., officiating. During the Gloria in excelsis of the mass all the cathedral bells were rung and thenceforward will remain silent till the mass on Holy Saturday.

Today is Good Friday and the chanting of the passion and the "mass of the presanctified" will occur. At the conclusion of the mass the blessed sacrament is conveyed from the sepulcher to the main altar, and the demand is made that Easter will be observed very generally by all churches in the city, with special decorations, fine music and Easter sermons. There will be grand pontifical mass at the Cathedral and a full orchestra will furnish music under direction of Prof. Gardner.

Stainer's oratorio, The Crucifixion, will be rendered at St. Paul's Church (Olive street), this evening at 7:45 by the full choir of thirty voices, under the direction of Preston Ware Orem, organist and choirmaster. The tenor and bass solos will be sung by Messrs. William Foran and A. M. Hawthorne. The general public is invited.

DEATH OF MRS. J. S. CLARK.

The Lady Was at Washington Prosecuting a Claim Against the Government.

News has just been received of the death at Washington, Mrs. J. S. Clark, a lady who was well known in this section and throughout the State. Her husband, who, during the war, was a wealthy cotton planter in Louisiana, had resided for several years previous to his death at Tombstone, Ariz. Mr. Clark died about two years ago at Washington, whether he had gone to press a claim of $129,000 for cotton destroyed during the war. ## THE FIRST WEEK.

The First Seven Days of the Dispensaria Cure Test.

Yesterday completed the first week of the Times test of the Tyson dispensaria cure at the Sisters' Hospital. Both subjects reported a marked improvement. Dr. J. H. Call, who was in charge, commenced the treatment; they were weighed by Dr. T. J. McCarthy, and tipped the scales at 184½ and 182½ pounds, respectively. Yesterday they were again weighed by Dr. McCarthy, and showed a marked gain, weighing respectively 187 and 185 pounds. The subjects are greatly pleased with their treatment by the sisters, and are very hopeful of their ultimate cure.

POLITICAL CONVENTIONS.

Gen. Alger a Strong Favorite With the Michiganders.

But Their Delegates to Minneapolis Go Uninstructed.

The Boyd Faction Captures the Nebraska Democracy.

The Latter's Delegates Will Go to Chicago Without Instructions—Proceedings in the State Conventions of Both Parties.

By Telegram to The Times.

DETROIT (Mich.), April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Republican State Convention met this afternoon. Ex-Congressman Allen was named temporary chairman. Allen, in his speech to Alger, Blaine and Harrison were wildly applauded. The enthusiasm of the day reached its height when a resolution was presented, which, after endorsing the administration of Harrison, eulogized Alger strongly and urged his nomination for the Presidency.

These resolutions, with all others, were referred to the Committee on Resolutions and were reported back in a modified form and were adopted amid applause. Resolutions were also adopted condemning the Michigan germ-warmer, the Springer Wolf Bill and approving the McKinley law.

Delos A. Blodgett of Kent county, James M. Wilkinson of Marquette, Charles W. Wells of Saginaw and D. M. Ferry of Detroit were unanimously nominated as delegates-at-large to the national convention.

At this juncture Thomas W. Palmer, president of the World's Fair, was invited to the stage and in response to clamor for a speech addressed the convention.

For electors-at-large, William McPherson of Livingston county and Congressman J. A. Hubble of Houghton county were nominated.

The various Congress districts reported members of the State Central Committee and candidates for district electors. Senator James McMillan was re-elected chairman of the State Committee by acclamation and the nominations of the Congress districts were confirmed.

The Committee on Resolutions then reported. The resolutions endorse the work of the Fifty-first Congress, and demand effective legislation by Congress to secure the integrity and purity of national elections; approve the forceful, fearless and dignified policy of the administration of President Harrison, who has been so ably assisted by that noble, patriotic statesman, James G. Blaine. The last plank in the platform was as follows:

While the Republicans of Michigan recognize the sterling worth and ability of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Gen. Russell Alger, whose claim to recognition as a Presidential standard-bearer is familiar to the people of the State, and who was first presented at the Chicago convention in 1888, we can safely leave to the collective judgment of the representatives of the party at Minneapolis in June next the selection of a leader who will lead the triumphal march of our hosts to victory at the polls in November, pledging to the nominee our unqualified cooperation and unwavering devotion.

The reference to Gen. Alger was received with great enthusiasm, and the resolutions were adopted amid cheers. The convention then adjourned.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS.

The Boyd Faction Wins—No Instructions Given—Silver Men Defeated.

OMAHA (Nebr.), April 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The fight between the Boyd and Martin factions in the Democratic State Convention continued all night before the Committee on Credentials.

After a brief respite the struggle was renewed this morning, and the convention was kept waiting all day by the failure of the Credentials Committee to report. The delegates from the various Congress districts selected delegates to the Chicago convention. A majority of these are Boyd men and against instructing for Cleveland.

It was nearly noon when Chairman Beatty called the convention to order. The Committee on Credentials reported in favor of seating the Boyd delegations from Douglas, Cheyenne, Cumming and Hitchcock counties. A motion to adopt the committee report was amended to seat the Martin delegates. Then the final struggle for supremacy began.

County Attorney Mahoney spoke in favor of the Martin faction and Charles O'Fallon presented the Boyd case. A vote was then taken. The Boyd faction was victorious.

A resolution endorsing Cleveland and instructing the delegates to the national convention to vote for him was presented. An amendment was presented eliminating the instruction. This was adopted and the resolution as amended passed. After the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions a recess was taken.

Upon reconvening the convention ratified the nomination for delegates made by the Congress district and then proceeded to the selection of delegates-at-large. Gen. Boyd was selected to head the delegation by a practically unanimous vote. The other delegates are Tobias Cary, William F. Fargo & Co. and Milton Doolittle.

The Committee on Resolutions then reported declaring steadfast adherence to the Democratic platform of 1884 and Cleveland's tariff policy.

At the conclusion of the platform, Congressman Bryan offered a resolution favoring the free coinage of silver. An uproar ensued. Congressman Bryan spoke in favor of the resolution, supported by delegates from the western part of the State, but other prominent leaders of the party were against him. After a hot debate lasting three hours, the roll was called and Chairman Beatty announced the defeat of the resolution by 247 to 229. Pandemonium broke loose. The silver men made a run for the stage and mounting the recorder's table shrieked that they were beaten by fraud. Finally quiet was restored and the vote verified. After the selection of alternates to the national convention, the convention adjourned.

WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN.

SEATTLE (Wash.), April 14.—The State Republican Convention convened this morning for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Republican Convention. A temporary organization was effected by the election of Judge Calkins as chairman.

Delegates and alternates to the national convention were chosen. The platform indorses the administration of President Harrison and favors the free coinage of silver only when it shall have been the result of an international bi-metallic conference.

ON TRIAL FOR PERJURY. Henry C. Beckley appeared before Judge Ross and a jury in the United States District Court yesterday morning for trial upon the charge of perjury, he having been indicted by the last United States grand jury. The Government was represented by Messrs. Allen and Denis, while J. A. Donnell, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

The jurors selected to try the case were W. F. Ball, F. A. Bradshaw, O. W. Childs, H. De Garmo, G. M. D. Fisher, G. W. Frey, J. Hamilton, M. S. Hewes, C. W. Hicks, J. A. Montgomery, J. T. O'Hara and H. L. Tufts.

The first and only witness called by the prosecution was M. L. Ward, United States Commissioner at San Diego, who testified to the effect that, on November 17 last, the defendant was sworn by him as a witness during the preliminary examination of J. Harvey McCarthy, charged with having smuggled two horses over the Mexican line, and denied under oath that he had ever seen the horses in question on Jose Yorba's ranch in Mexico in 1890.

Counsel for the defendant then objected to the introduction of this testimony on the ground that the proof offered varied from the allegations of the indictment, in that it was charged in the latter that Beckley committed the perjury during the preliminary examination of D. O. McCarthy and J. Harvey McCarthy, whereas the witness swore that it occurred during the examination of the latter alone.

G. J. Denis, Esq., for the Government argued that the cases had been consolidated by consent in order to save time, and that under these circumstances the defendant could be tried under the indictment upon the charge of having committed perjury in both cases, separately. The Court, however, at the close of the argument, sustained the defendant's objection, and instructed the jury to acquit Beckley, who was thereupon discharged.

THE BURNS DIVORCE SUIT. The trial of the sensational Burns divorce suit was resumed before Judge McKinley in Department Six yesterday, the plaintiff, Mrs. Sarah A. Burns, being upon the stand all day, undergoing a cross-examination. She bore herself throughout the trying ordeal with composure, and readily answered all the questions asked her. An attempt was made by the defense to show by the witness that prior to her marriage in 1878 she and the defendant lived together for five years, but the Court refused to admit the evidence, and sustained the objection of plaintiff's counsel to it, on the ground that it was not cross-examination. The testimony of T. E. Perkins and the deposition of Mrs. Mary E. Beedle were also introduced by the plaintiff.

The case will be resumed this morning.

SUIT ON RASKIN'S BOND. Suit was commenced in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon by the District Attorney on behalf of the People of the State of California against H. Clary and Charles Casters, to recover the sum of $1000, alleged to be due on a bail bond filed with City Justice Austin on September 9 last, for the release of Charles Raskin, who was charged with libel. The defendants qualified as sureties on this bond, which was given for the purpose of ensuring the appearance of the defendant for trial; but when the case was called he failed to appear, and after several continuances had been granted on the ground that the defendant was absent in a foreign country, the Court on February 25 forfeited the bail and issued a bench warrant for Raskin's arrest.

Court Notes. In Department Two yesterday morning Judge Clark, upon motion of the defendant in the case of M. Cummings vs. S. A. Randall, dismissed the action and ordered that defendant recover his costs from plaintiff, it appearing to the Court that its order of March 15 next, imposing costs as the condition of the continuance, had not been complied with.

The plaintiff in the case of C. W. Clark vs. K. D. Wise, an action to obtain an accounting, failed to appear when the matter was called for trial by Judge Van Dyke yesterday morning, whereupon the Court upon motion of the defendant, ordered the case dismissed.

James A. Lloyd, a Canadian, was duly admitted to citizenship of the United States yesterday by Judge Van Dyke upon producing the necessary proofs of residence here and taking the requisite oaths of renunciation and allegiance.

In Department Five yesterday morning Judge Shaw made an order directing the defendant in the case of Mrs. Grace Crevecoeur vs. Anton B. de Crevecoeur to pay to the clerk every Monday the sum of $5, until the amount of the judgment of costs in the suit be paid.

In accordance with the stipulation of counsel Judge Shaw yesterday morning continued the case of W. H. Holmes vs. S. S. Watson, an action to recover $1800.40 for goods, etc., sold to defendant by M. C. Ford, which came upon an appeal from Justice Austin's court, until Wednesday next, it being agreed that should the demand not be paid at that time judgment shall be entered for plaintiff therein as prayed for.

VITRIFIED BRICK PAVING. The Work at San Bernardino Creating a Favorable Impression.

Most of the Los Angeles city officials who went to San Bernardino on Thursday to inspect the vitrified brick pavement which has been laid on E street in that city were most pleased with what they saw. Few branches of municipal improvement have caused more discussion and difference of opinion as that regarding the material for street paving.

Vitrified brick is comparatively new for the purpose of street paving on the Coast. It is claimed for this material that it possesses all the advantages of granite without its drawbacks. It has withstood the most severe tests that it has been put to. Its advantage over bituminous pavements is that it wears better and is not so slippery.

The vitrified pavement, as laid in San Bernardino, appears to be almost indestructible. There are two layers of brick, the lower one laid flat and the other on edge. Such a pavement as this will wear, it is claimed by those interested in it, for an almost indefinite time, as has been fully proved in cities where vitrified brick pavement has been in constant use for many years.

In fact, there is no variety of pavement, they say, that can compare with it in wearing qualities. Its many striking advantages, including its high resistance to asphalt, bitumen, cobbles, stones, wooden blocks or any other known pavement.

Street paving is, in any case, a costly undertaking, and care should be taken to get the best material—a material that will last a long time and give good satisfaction while it lasts. Such a pavement it is claimed for the vitrified brick.

The trial of the sensational Burns divorce suit was resumed before Judge McKinley in Department Six yesterday, the plaintiff, Mrs. Sarah A. Burns, being upon the stand all day, undergoing a cross-examination. She bore herself throughout the trying ordeal with composure, and readily answered all the questions asked her. MUNROE'S RASCALITY.

Another Case Which Looks Bad for the Young Accountant.

A Woman Swindled Out of $1500, the Price of Ten Acres of Land Which She Authorized Munroe to Sell for Her.

Another piece of rascality on the part of George Munroe, the young expert accountant, now awaiting trial for forgery, came to light the other day by the filing of the preliminary documents in a civil suit entitled, Ellen D. Raymond, vs. G. W. Glover, Sarah J. Glover, George Munroe, and the German-American Savings Bank.

In her complaint Mrs. Raymond alleges that on July 1, 1891, she entered into a contract with G. W. Glover and his wife, whereby she agreed to sell them lot 36 of the W. R. Rowland tract in the Rancho Puente, containing 10.61 acres of land, for $1800, of which $500 was to be paid down and the balance of $1300 was to be paid in three years with interest at 9 per cent. per annum. The defendant, George Munroe, negotiated this sale, as her agent, and on February 24 last plaintiff duly executed a deed to the property to Glover, which was delivered to Munroe, but without plaintiff's consent, made them out in Munroe's name and in violation of his duty as agent, and in fraud of plaintiff's rights, the latter took both note and mortgage and pledged them at the German-American Savings Bank as security for $1000 he borrowed there on March 1 last.

The plaintiff, who is therefore out of both land and money, brought the suit to obtain a decree declaring that Munroe and the defendant bank accepted the money, note and mortgage as trustees only for plaintiff, and if not, that it be adjudged that the amount claimed be a vendor's lien against the property.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Closing Sessions of Presbytery at Riverside.

Election of Delegates to the Next General Assembly.

Resolution Adopted Favoring Shorter Creed for General Use.

Reports on Missions and Church Extension.—The General Condition of Affairs Very Favorable.—Vote of Thanks.

The Presbytery of Los Angeles continued in session at Riverside Wednesday afternoon and yesterday, Rev. Mr. Chichester, the newly-elected moderator, presiding.

Wednesday afternoon after luncheon the first business in hand was the election of three representatives to the general assembly to be held in May next at Portland, Or., when Revs. Hartley, Parker and Newell were elected, and as alternates, Revs. L. P. Crawford, Mills and Young.

The three elders elected as lay-members to the general assembly are Messrs. Vandever, Craig and Hall. Their alternates are Messrs. Ward Cockins and Deady.

Later the proposed overture by Rev. Mr. Strong on keeping the old confession of faith as the renewed expression of true Presbyterian theology, but at the same time preparing a briefer creed with the same theology, but with modern line of thought, was again up for debate, when an expressive and interesting discussion followed.

Then Rev. Dr. Weller introduced a substitute which (1) reaffirmed the former view of the presbytery on revision and (2) the necessity of forming a shorter creed, a summary of the accepted confession for the use and instruction of the people.

This substitute was adopted and, finally, on being put to a vote, was accepted.

At the popular meeting in the evening there was a discussion on "Church in Relation to Labor." The leader in this discussion was Rev. Dr. Stewart, who showed the same brightness and originality that he does in his sermons in the First Presbyterian Church.

Others, too, made remarks on this and on the Sabbath school.

The first day's session passed off harmoniously and in good, cheerful spirit pervaded the whole assembly.

THURSDAY'S SESSION.
The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. William Ambrose of El Cajon, San Diego county.

The usual routine business was then taken up and put through.

The report on Foreign Missions by Rev. A. M. Marvin was most stirring one, and told some very plain facts.

It is certainly not to the credit of the wealthy Presbyterians of the United States, says the report, that the contributions per capita of that denomination are less than those of the Methodist, Congregationalist and Dutch Reform denominations. It seems that the church that gives the most per member for foreign missions is what is known as the "Seven Churches of Christ."

Rev. A. A. Dismore reported on work among the freedmen in the United States. The colored population increases from 150,000 to 200,000 per annum and the death rate is less than that of the whites. In less than a quarter of a century they will be 30,000,000. Hence the necessity of Christian labor among them. In the Presbyterian denomination there are 269 churches and 15,000 members in regular standing.

Dr. Ormiston gave a graphic account of his visit to some of the colored churches in the South and he emphasized the necessity of intelligent Christian effort among the colored people.

There were other interesting reports on the various benevolent societies, such as the Ministerial Relief Association, Sunday-school and Home Mission. The last was given by the Rev. Mr. Seward, the synodical missionary, who is an active and thoroughly practical man.

At the noon hour the presbytery took a recess, and the members seemed to thoroughly enjoy the bountiful repast prepared by the Calvary and Arlington Presbyterian Churches.

The session began work again at 1 p.m. Rev. H. B. Gage reported on the condition and progress of the churches in the presbytery. The report was very vigorous and encouraging, although quite a number of churches failed to fill up the usual blanks sent out.

Every church sent this report, which is remarkable, viz.: There is no "church poor" in the English-speaking congregations. The Spanish-speaking Presbyterian churches are poor, but take care of each other. One church reports, "we are all poor, but need no aid."

Rev. Mr. Gage said that there are missionary societies among the women and the girls, but none had been formed among the men and boys. There was much encouragement, notwithstanding that few of the churches have enjoyed a season of revival.

A resolution was here introduced by Rev. John Herron of San Bernardino to express the grateful sentiment of the presbytery for the generous attention and courtesy of the Los Angeles Times for reports of the presbytery.

Rev. W. S. Young reported on the Occidental College, and spoke encouragingly of the prospect of removing altogether the debt of that institution; and that debt may easily be wiped out if those who have already subscribed will pay up, and if the churches of the presbytery will take up prompt collections before June 22. Well-merited expressions were enunciated by the speaker in regard to the work and plans of President MacPherson, of the Occidental College.

Rev. Dr. Stewart, of the First Church, Los Angeles, brought in a resolution expressing the approval of an conference in Rev. B. Fay Mills, who is to soon to labor in Los Angeles at the invitation of the united evangelical churches of that city.

Before the adjournment of the presbytery there was a vote of thanks to the people of Riverside for their kind hospitality.

At the invitation of Rev. William Fife of Pasadena the next meeting of the presbytery will be held in that city.

EASTER OPENING

Of New Millinery.—The Hit of the Season. By adopting the principles of the time-worn adage, "Quick sales and small profit," has brought unqualified success. Thousands of ladies cheerfully testify that Mozart's style and quality of millinery is equal to any in this city. Others may copy our styles, but none our low prices.

It is absurd for ladies to pay high prices for millinery when the trio of styles make the same hat, the same flowers and the same style may be had for much less price, something 50 per cent less than many other places. No store can live and sell cheap unless they handle the quantities. We claim to sell more millinery than any two stores in the millinery line in this city; therefore we can exist on smaller profits than any competitor. In all our work we ask you to come and see for yourselves.

The hit of the season has been our special sale of a hat and dower at 50 cents for both. In all colors and all sizes and many shapes. The same would be considered cheap at $1 elsewhere.
